

My best Cat

by Kwan Sui Hang

I have a cat. His name is Toro. We are very best friends.

Last year, on the day before Christmas Eve, he wanted to prepare a gift for me, so he went into the "Treeland," looking for some fruits. Then, he found a lot of apple trees, and he picked an apple. After six hours, Toro finally returned home with the apple, and he gave the apple to me.

I was very happy and treated him with many fish and toys. We all love Christmas.

My Universe Dream
by Ng Hok Lai, Aimaz

One day, I saw a small rocket toy at the door. I picked it up out of curiosity. Suddenly, it turned into a big rocket and sent me to a black world! Turns out it was the universe.

Aliens invited me to visit their school. While I was there, I met Aliens, and we became friends. At their school, Aliens taught me about flying saucers. I was so happy when we played together.

Bang! I fell off the bed. Oh... It was just a dream.

Where is the library?
By Wong Ching Suet

An old woman is looking for a library near Tiu Keng Leng MTR Station. She meets Cheryl and seeks help.

Old woman: Excuse me. Is there a library nearby?

Cheryl: Yes, there is.

Old woman: Where is the library?

Cheryl: It is in front of my primary school.

Old woman: Thank you! But I don't know where your primary school is. Could you tell me, please?

Cheryl: Sure. My primary school is behind the library!

Old woman: Okay. Where is the library?

Cheryl: I told you already. It is in front of my primary school!

Old woman: .....

MY CAT

(by Wong Lok Him)

I have a cat. His name is Fui Fui. He is eleven years old. He loves eating fish but is too lazy to play and likes to sleep. Always vomit because of his hair. He hates it when my father catches and touches him.

I play with Fui Fui every day. He is cute when playing. I like to play “hide and seek” with him. He feels he is a lion and is a King of the World, especially when he is angry. I love my cat because I can play and sleep with him. However, he doesn't like me, and he will punch me.

Even though he doesn't like me, I still love him! I hope he can stay with me for a long time.

16th November,

A special gift for Ruby

Ruby is a kind, responsible and energetic girl. She is ten years old. She lives in a big city called “Cheery Town” with her family. She loves animals and often donates to charities.

One day, she was playing in the park after school. She saw a cat nearly getting drowned in the pond. She jumped into the pond and saved the cat immediately. Luckily, she saved the cat successfully and got the cat back from the pond. Suddenly, the cat spoke to Ruby. The cat said, ‘Thank you for saving me. I will reward you. I am a magic cat, and I can give you the superpower you want. Which kind of superpower do you want?’

Ruby felt so surprised and replied, ‘Oh! I can’t believe that you can talk. I would like to have a time-freezing power. It should be fun.’ The cat said, ‘Ok. I can give you that power. But it only lasts one minute every time you use it.’ Ruby was so grateful for that. At the same time, the cat disappeared.

The next day, Ruby walked past the park. There was a little girl sitting and reading a book under the tree. But the tree seemed to be broken soon. Then, Ruby used her time-freezing power and said, ‘Freeze!’ The time stopped. She ran to the girl and held her hands. They ran away from the tree. After that, the tree fell down. Thankfully, Ruby saved the girl’s life just in time.

Later, Ruby was walking down the street on her way home. When the traffic light was flashing, an old lady in a wheelchair was still crossing the road slowly. Then, the traffic light turned red. The old lady was still on the road. Many cars were moving toward the old lady. It was so dangerous. At that time, Ruby used her power again and said, ‘Freeze!’ The time stopped. She pushed the wheelchair with the old lady to another end of the road quickly. Ruby saved another life again. The old lady said, “Thank you! You are my heroine!”

In the end, Ruby used her superpower and saved many people’s lives. She was getting famous in town. People called Ruby “Smiley Girl” because she always smiles. Everyone in Cheery Town must remember her smile and her kindness. Such a special gift for Ruby!

One day a superhero named Nick at Super City was training at the Hero training centre to train, but suddenly a girl yelled repeatedly, "Help! Help!" He heard the scream and used his super speed to run as fast as he could.

When Nick arrived, he saw that the lady was hanging from a building and is about to fall to her death. Nick used his super speed but could seem to run up the building. He tries his flight, but the wind is too strong. He uses all his powers, but suddenly he sees a man with some tools, the man keeps spawning objects out of nowhere, and he makes a safety ladder so she can slowly walk down. He thought to himself, he doesn't have a sidekick, a duo, or a trio. He needed a team, so Nick printed out posters everywhere to see if people wanted to be on the superhero team.

The next day at the hero training centre, 20 superheroes were there to be one of the heroes on Nick's team, but Nick said only five heroes were going to be on the team. The heroes were surprised.

The heroes used powers like fire, flight, or laser beams to impress Nick. In the end, there were six heroes left.

The heroes were Mighty Punch, Stealth Queen, Laser Shot, Flame Wing, Cool Vine, and Chill Kill. Nick picked Mighty Punch, Stealth Queen, Flame Wing, and Cool Vine. Only Laser Shot and Chill Kill were left. He wanted to choose Laser Shot, but a hero named Brain Eye stepped in.

He said he was smart and could look into the future, leaving Nick shocked. Nick's final hero was Brain Eye.

Now with strength, stealth, fire, flight, ice, grass and intelligence, and speed, they created an unstoppable team.

An adventure in a cable car

by Lau Yuet Kiu, Kate

Last Sunday, I went to Lantau Island with my family. We had a ride on Ngong Ping 360.

It was a sunny day. We felt excited because it was our first time in Ngong Ping. Suddenly, we heard a loud 'boom' sound from the top of the cabin. The cable car fell down into the sea! The cabin floated on the water. We were trapped inside and felt scared! Luckily, two dolphins came and used their long mouths to push the cabin from the sea to the shore.

Finally, five minutes later, the rescue team arrived and took us to the hospital. All of us were not hurt. Thanks to the dolphins for saving us.

The Twins

by 4D Li Cheuk Kiu

Many years ago, two twins were born, a boy and a girl. They were separated from birth because their real mother died from giving birth. At first, a rich married couple saw twins at the adoption center, not knowing they were twins. Next, a poor couple saw a cute little boy at the center. They knew they had to adopt the boy.

The girl twin was spoiled. She was very greedy. On the other hand, the boy twin was grateful and honest. He wouldn't lie. The girl twin was a bully to the boy, not even knowing they were siblings. After the twins were officially sixteen, their adoptive parents told them the truth that they were adopted. The girl immediately overreacted. The boy was calm and asked his adoptive parents to meet his biological parents. The parents said sure but told him that his actual mom was dead, but his father was alive. The girl also asked the same thing to the parents, and the parents responded the same thing, so the girl and the boy found out they were siblings and met their real father.

In the end, the girl became honest and not greedy anymore, and they lived happily than before.

I Meet Doraemon
by Lu Kai Chung

One day, when I was watching TV at home alone, the lights suddenly turned off, then I saw Doraemon popping out of the TV! He said, "Hey, Martyn! Can you do me a favour?" I said, "Hello, Doraemon. Nice to meet you. What can I do for you?" He said, "I know you are a brave boy, so you can help me to capture the rat that bit my ear?" I said, "But you have the super pocket of many gadgets. Why do you need me?" He said, "Because I am afraid of rats very much!" I said, "Then what reward will you give me if I help you?" He said, "What about a gadget in my pocket?" I said, "ok, it's Deal!" Then we took his time machine and went to the future.

When we arrived in the future, I said, "Look! The cars are flying off the road, and the airport is full of rockets. People are riding on anti-gravity boards. It is amazing." Doraemon took me to have a tour around the city. After the tour, he said, "are you ready to capture the rat now?" I said, "I am ready!" So, we got into his house to meet the rat.

After we entered the house, I asked, "where is it?" Doraemon said, "Over there! It is in front of the hole!" When I looked to the place where he pointed, I saw a little rat. Then I asked, "that little one?" He replied while hiding behind me, "Yes!" I thought the rat was big, had a cruel face, and was sharp-teethed. He said, "Don't talk too much. Just do it now!" So, I took my secret weapon out of my pocket, a cheese! Then, I set a trap and said, "let's wait for the result!" After thirty minutes, we returned to the house, and I saw the rat was captured. Doraemon was very happy and said, "Thank you very much, Martyn!"

And then Doraemon kept his promise, and he let me choose one of the gadgets from his pocket. I thought for a while and then chose one. Do you want to know what kind of gadget I got? It's a secret between us!

The Clear and Beautiful Sea

In the afternoon, dolphin Bell and Bob are playing a tig tag game. They swim and swim, and they reach a strange place that they never came to before.

This place is dirty and smelly. It's difficult for dolphins to adapt. Bob asks, 'What is happening here?' 'Yes, what is happening here?' Bell has the same question too. Suddenly, a fish named Grace came out from a stone cave. She tells the dolphins, 'I know!' 'Please tell us.' said Bell. Grace replied, 'In the morning, I swam past by here. Suddenly, I saw a bunch of things fall down. Then I swam away.'

'It must be human's rubbish!' Bob said angrily. Bell is angry, too. She said humans have no responsibility to the ocean. "How can we stop them?" Bob suggested writing a letter to the human. Bell and Bob said a lot of suggestions, but all were rejected by Grace.

Suddenly, Bell hears the alarm ringing. Bell opens her eyes and sees she is lying on the bed. Bob and Grace are gone. It is just a dream when she looks out of the windows. The sea is still clear and beautiful.

Making Strawberry Cake

Cathy is in the kitchen. She wants to make a strawberry cake because she loves strawberry cakes. She has a box of flour, a carton of milk and a box of butter but she does not have any eggs.

She needs an egg. She asks Piggy if she has any eggs. However, Piggy says she doesn't have any eggs.

Later, Cathy sees Doggy and asks 'Do you have an egg?' Doggy smiles at Cathy, 'Here you are!' Doggy gives Cathy an egg as a present. Cathy says, 'Wow!' They make the cake together.

Lastly, they share the cake with their friends. They feel very happy. Their friends say, 'This is a nice cake ever!' They feel very happy.

A strange dream
by Cheung Wan Hei

One sunny day, Sam was chatting with his friends about what to write for his assignment after leaving the writing centre.

When Sam came back home, he was about to start his writing homework, but his stomach kept on grumbling, so he went to the kitchen to find some food.

He started with the stove, then the microwave, until he finally saw a jug of funky candies on a no-leg table. "That's strange," said Sam. When Sam grabbed some candy, he accidentally dropped the jug, but it didn't break! Instead, it started to transform into a tunnel, and Sam decided to take a big leap to enter it.

There were lots of delicious candies and different types of lollipops in the tunnel! An enormous chocolate waterfall and some pretty sweet plants caught Sam's eye. "Wow, awesome!" Said Sam.

A Candy Parkour Park suddenly appeared in front of Sam's vision. While he was jumping, the other platforms formed a big pile of candy wrappers to block Sam's way. He slipped out from the platform and fell down into the river.

While he was swimming in the river, a candy piranha swooped in from nowhere and chased after Sam. He screamed out loud until...

"Sam, are you alright?" Sam's mom asked him. " Mom, you woke me up at the right time. I was being chased by a candy piranha." Sam said, moaning on the floor.

Sam thought about his dream and now knows what to write for his assignment.

A Jaywalking Accident

One afternoon, an elderly woman was in a hurry to go home as she forgot to lock the door. She wanted to cross the road, but the zebra crossing was far away. Therefore, she wanted to jaywalk so that she could go back home quickly. She made up her mind and started to jaywalk as fast as she could.

Unfortunately, a bus came, and the driver could not put on the brakes immediately. The bus crashed into the woman. A passerby called the police, and the others were shouting for help.

After five minutes, the police and ambulance arrived. The paramedic put the woman on a stretcher when the police interviewed the eyewitnesses of the accident. The woman was sent to the hospital in no time.

At last, the woman's leg was broken, and the driver was arrested and charged with careless driving. The woman learnt not to jaywalk again. She must be careful when crossing the road. Besides, the driver learnt that he must pay attention to the surroundings when driving on the road.

The lost king of Toy Kingdom

Once upon a time, there was a curious boy called Jack. He used to look for new things.

One foggy day, Jack went to a forest. He saw a gigantic mushroom and found a hole on it. Oh, there was a toy kingdom inside! There were so many living toys. Jack was amazed.

Just then, a toy mantis asked Jack, “Where did you come from?” Jack said, “I came from that mushroom.” The toy mantis was puzzled.

Meanwhile, a soldier announced, “Our king is kidnapped by Food Kingdom!” All the toys panicked. Jack immediately calmed them down. He instructed them to use different weapons, like bullets, missiles and swords to attack Food kingdom. A fierce battle began...

At last, the toys defeated Food Kingdom and saved their king. Jack was over the moon. Suddenly, he fell from his bed. Oh, it was just a dream!

My 'Super Woman'

I have a great-grandma. She always helps me when I am in trouble. So I call her 'Super Woman.'

When I was still little, my dad and mum always stayed with me in grandma's house for a week because they needed to work and were busy. So grandma always shared good things with me. She and grandpa often played with me. We have many happy memories there.

I remember that the first day I went to school, I was nervous and cried. Grandma took my hand and said, 'Don't worry. I go inside with you.' I felt great a lot. So I went to school happily, and I had an excellent day.

Sometimes I would be angry at grandma and thought that she was annoying! I was naughty! When I was in primary three, I got up on a windy day but didn't want to bring my jacket. It was because I didn't want to make my school bag heavy and I was not cold. Grandma said, 'Take the jacket! It is cold outside!' All the time, I thought that she was annoying so, at last, I didn't bring my jacket.

When I was on the way to school, I felt the weather was getting cooler, so I got up and ran to school. When I got to my classroom, all my classmates were wearing a jacket. 'Ring!' the school bell rang. It was time to go home. When I was ready to get off, it was raining. It made me much cooler. I was as frozen as ice. Just then, I saw a familiar person walking lamely. It was grandma! She put on the jacket for me, and then we returned home. I felt warm in my heart. 'From now on, I won't be angry at grandma again.' I thought.

Although grandma already moved to England two years ago, I still love her. We always call each other and share our life experiences. Anyway, grandma is my 'Super Woman' forever.

Yesterday, I followed the school charity club to visit an elderly home which was located in the Mong Kok district. The visit had different activities, such as students' performances and games.

First, we sang Chinese classical music to conjure up elderly memories. We did a lot of rehearsals to make it perfect. Though we encountered some difficulties and conflicts, we still tried our best to appreciate each other. Fortunately, our hard work paid off, as they loved it very much.

Then, we played guessing games with the elderly. First, we showed various objects to them and let them guess what they were. The elderly were as wise as an owl. They could answer the questions immediately.

I am super pleased that I can participate in this event and help needy people in our community. I hope people can do more charity work because it is more blessed to give than receive.

The best friend

Jack and Jose are adventurers. One day, it was a sunny day. Jack and Jose continue venturesome. Jack and Jose were going to the forest.

Then, they walked. After that, they wanted to rest. At that moment, one tiger and a lion walked out. They were hungry. They wanted to eat Jack and Jose. Jack was scared, but Jose was not worried.

After that, they ran and wanted to walk out of the forest, but the forest was too big. They did not know what to do. Jose thought of an idea to try to find people to help them. Jack replied, "there are no people in the forest. We are abandoned."

In the end, they found the hunter, and he shot down the lion and tiger. They were very grateful to the hunter and replied, "thank you!" They walked out of the forest eventually. From now on, Jack and Jose are best friends.

This story tells us it is important to work together, but you must know that everyone is important. It does not matter. Keep a fit mind and body, and never forget your friends who help you achieve your dreams.

A Jolly Christmas Day

Today was a blast. I woke up having a very jolly feeling about today. I thought to myself, "Why do I have this sudden feeling?" That's when it struck me. "It's Christmas Day!" I yelled. I immediately jumped out of bed and ran downstairs. When I saw the festive decorations, I knew today would be awesome.

My parents, Wendy and William. They both made me breakfast (Snowman-shaped pancakes). I ate it all up rapidly. I quickly went to school, but nobody was there. I felt confused. Unexpectedly, I went to the classroom, and the teachers, including the students, all gathered and jumped to surprise me! "Happy Holidays!" Oh man, I never expected that. We had a Christmas party too. Subsequently, we had a disco ball hanging from the ceiling and a present exchange.

Lastly, I went back home, amazed. There were gifts under the tree. I opened them with my family, and there was a blue box covered in wrapping paper. Inside was a big teddy bear. I have always wanted a smartphone. But the most important thing on Christmas is spending time with loved ones. I hope next year will be even more jolly.

Three Little Pigs - How to get up on time?

Once upon a time, there were three little pigs. One day, their mum said, ‘My dear, you have grown up. You must wake up to go to school by yourself.’

The first little pig didn’t get up in the morning because his straw bed was too comfortable. So, he went to the second little pig’s house and slept with his brother. They, however, still didn’t wake up on time as the stick bed was also too enjoyable.

Finally, the two little pigs asked the third little pig for help. Their little brother grinned and promised, “No Problem! You must wake up on time tomorrow.” The next day, they really did it because their little brother invented an alarm clock that had a brick sliding down on time. If they overslept, the brick would hit their heads.

From then on, the three little pigs never overslept and went to school late again.

A brave princess

Once upon a time, there was a girl called Josie who lived in a village. One day, she found a big egg under a tree. After a while, the egg cracked, and a little dragon came out of the egg. Soon it was as tall as a mountain. Josie felt very surprised.

Then, a wizard told them a bad witch had caught the prince in a tower. The wizard said, "Come to the tower and save the prince." Josie sat on the dragon. The dragon flew to the tower. They saw a brave tiger, so the dragon killed the tiger. They went to the tower. The witch was not there, so the dragon and Josie saved the prince from the tower.

When they went to the village, the prince said, "Thank you." The prince also said, "You're very beautiful. Can you marry me?" Josie said, "Yes." They live happily forever.
